World Blood Donor Day

World Blood Donor Day was observed on Sunday, June 14, 2026, under the theme "One Drop of Humanity. Give Blood. Save Lives." The day highlighted the importance of voluntary blood donation and recognized the invaluable contribution of blood donors in saving lives.

As part of the observance, SVJCT's Samarth Nursing College organized a Blood Donation Camp on 18 June 2026 at B. K. L. Walawalkar Blood Bank. The initiative aimed to create awareness about the need for safe blood and encourage voluntary blood donation among young healthcare professionals.

A total of 28 nursing students enthusiastically participated in the blood donation drive and donated blood, demonstrating their commitment to community service and healthcare. The initiative not only helped strengthen blood reserves but also inspired others to become regular blood donors. The blood bank distributed a pen and an appreciation certificate as a token of appreciation.

The program concluded with appreciation for all donors and a renewed commitment to supporting life-saving blood donation efforts. The observance reinforced the message that a single act of donation can make a significant difference in saving lives and serving humanity.
